The One Price System.

IS IT RIGHT, OR IS IT WRONG?

Stores of the first class in every community in the land adhere strictly to one price. The Bowery stores do not. In Wheeling it's different.

AN EXAMPLE:

A certain lady in this city last week related her experience at one of our first class stores. In looking at suits she was asked $50 for a handsome suit; before she went out it was offered to her for $40. Lo and behold! when she arrived home the suit was there, with a note saying they were very anxious to sell her the suit, and would make the price $32.

QUERY:

Was the suit marked $50 anticipating a prospective discount sale?

THIS STORE
ADHERES STRICTLY TO ONE PRICE.

Every article is marked in plain figures. We invite critical inspection, and will gladly send goods on memo. Probably a little investigation will show that some stores are adding on 30 per cent, preparing to give off—what?

There will be no discount sale here.

Badly Injured.

While at work on the roof of the Wheeling Corrugating Company yesterday morning, William Brooks accidentally slipped and fell, crushing his right ankle. The distance from the roof to the ground is thirty-five feet and the wonder is that he was not killed. Mr. Brooks' home is on Eleventh street, but he was removed to the City hospital, where a surgeon attended him. Everything possible will be done to prevent him from becoming a cripple, but it is thought it is beyond the power of surgery to do so.

A Skeleton Found.

While the workmen were engaged in excavating for the foundation for the residence of George Grey, on North Huron street, Island, yesterday morning, they discovered a skeleton of a human being. The discovery was made at a depth of about twenty inches and the bones were so crumpled as to occupy very little space. They fell to pieces when the men endeavored to move them. How this gruesome object came there is a mystery, but it is thought it may be the remains of an Indian.

A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday morning, while Andrew Gibbons was driving a team attached to a wagon, containing a load of brick, over the steel bridge, the brake refused to act and the horses started at break-neck pace down the bridge. In trying to make the turn at Ohio street the traces broke and the wagon collided with a telegraph pole, and the driver landed on the sidewalk with half the load of bricks on top of him. The horses landed in a heap a little farther on. Mr. Gibbons crawled out from under the bricks without a scar on him, and his escape was almost miraculous.

Some New Buildings.

Glessey & Faris, the architects, are preparing plans for a number of new buildings, among which are the following:

A residence for James B. Moore, in Woodsdale, costing about $4,000; a residence for Thomas H. Acres, on Thirteenth street, costing $2,000; a residence for Dr. W. B. Fletcher, Cameron, costing $2,000; a bank building for the new banking company recently organized at Dillonvale, costing about $5,000; plans for alterations in the residence of I. E. Clifton, on South Front street, costing about $3,000; also plans for a handsome pressed brick front in the Heymann Brewing Company's building, at Belleaire.

"FIELD DAY"
MOVEMENT IS BOOMING.

A Meeting of the General Committee on Arrangements Was Held Friday Evening.

SUB-COMMITTEES APPOINTED

And the Work of Preparing for the Affair is Now On—10,000 Tickets to be Issued.

THE ROUGH RIDER REGIMENT

Organizes by Election of Dr. Baguley as Colonel, and C. H. Geiger Lieutenant Colonel.

It was Rough Rider evening, Friday, and was notable for the auspicious beginning of the work of arranging for the Republican Field Day here on October 13, and for the election of the regimental officers of the First West Virginia Rough Rider regiment. The meeting of representatives of each of the Rough Rider companies was attended by some thirty members, most of them being the commissioned officers of the companies. The meeting was marked by such enthusiasm that the success of the Field Day project is now assured beyond any doubt, unless the weather should happen to give it a black eye.

The election of Dr. H. B. Baguley as colonel of the First West Virginia Rough Rider regiment is a deserved recognition of his service in projecting the organization. The idea of the Rough Rider regiment was first suggested by Assistant Postmaster A. C. Davis, and among the first to be enlisted in its support was Dr. Baguley. Col. Baguley's service in the Spanish-American war as surgeon of the First West Virginia Volunteers, eminently qualifies him for the command of the First West Virginia Rough Riders.

Field Day.

Of the thirty or more young Republicans present at the meeting, which was held at the Republican congressional committee's headquarters, on Chapline street, the following general committee on arrangements for the Republican Field Day was chosen: Dr. George W. Otto, Jesse D. Dixon, Samuel Uelton, Ben Shuler, Walter Worris, W. H. Cassell, Dr. H. B. Baguley, Lee Dobbs, George N. Deviney, W. C. Thomas, Ben Honecker, George Humphreys, W. J. Lyle, A. S. Bell, Jason C. Stamp, Dave C. Dinger, A. C. Davis. The committee organized by selecting Mr. Archer, of the Intelligencer, as chairman, and W. H. Cassell as secretary.

There was a short discussion of the project, Chairman Archer outlining the plan proposed last week through the Intelligencer. He stated that the Wheeling-Intelligencer and Canton Repository would jointly conduct the Intelligencer-Repository Presidential Relay Race, which will bring from Canton to Wheeling on Field Day, the message of President McKinley to West Virginia Republicans, the papers to have the co-operation of Mr. Jason C. Stamp, the Wheeling bicycle dealer. With that feature of the day the Field Day committees would not be concerned, so far as its arranging went. As to the programme proper at the grounds, Chairman Archer reported that the state fair association had agreed to let the grounds for the affair; that assurances had been received that cyclists and others would take part in the races; that the Mark Hanna club and others would contest in a prize drill; that Hon. C. L. Weems had been seen Friday afternoon and had stated positively that he would make a Field Day address on the issues of the campaign; that County Chairman Hornish would furnish another speaker, if desired.

Committees Named.

The committee decided to name sub-committees on parade, athletics, prize drill, prizes and finance. The parade committee will have charge of the street demonstration that will precede the affair; the drill committee will arrange a prize drill, in which it is likely sixteen men from each of the Rough Rider companies will participate; the committee on privileges will solicit prizes from Republican business men to be given the Field Day contestants; the committee on athletics will be in charge of the programme of racing, etc., and the finance committee will have charge of the placing and sale of the tickets, disposition of privileges, etc.

The committees were then named, as follows:

There was discussion as to the date of the Field Day, and Saturday, October 13, was decided upon, the Saturday before being out of the question, owing to its being the date of the White-Hot Joint debate here.

The price of Field Day admission was placed at ten cents.

The general committee adjourned to meet next Monday evening, in the first branch council chamber. Before the general committee meet, there will be meetings of the several sub-committees on parade, finance, athletics, prizes and prize drill at the same place and the same evening.

Finance Committee.

After the general committee had adjourned the Field Day committee on finance met, and ordered the printing of 10,000 tickets of admission. These will be in the hands of Dave C. Dinger, who was made secretary and treasurer of the finance committee, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the finance committee desires and urges the captains of the several Rough Rider companies to call at the congressional headquarters this afternoon and secure their quota of tickets. Each captain is expected to distribute tickets among the members of his company, and the latter are expected to make it a point to sell as many tickets as possible and the earliest possible time. The money will be used for equipping the companies, and it is important to know soon about how much money will be realized from the Field Day, so that orders for the equipment may be sent on the day to receive it before Roosevelt Day, October 13.

The captains are urged to place tickets in the hands of their men this afternoon, and urge the greatest activity possible in the sale of the tickets. The quality of the attractions offered is high enough for a twenty-five cent admission, but to bring the Field Day within the reach of every man, woman and child the popular price of ten cents rules. Rough Riders selling tickets are urged to place them in "bunches of ten at a dollar" wherever possible.

The finance committee appointed a sub-committee on privileges, composed of Messrs. D. C. Dinger, Walter Worris and Dr. George W. Otto, to whom persons desiring ground privileges may apply. No beer will be sold on the grounds.

Regimental Officers.

The Rough Rider regiment's company officers met, formed the First West Virginia Rough Rider regiment, and elected officers.

For colonel the names of Hugh Sterling and Dr. H. B. Baguley were suggested, and the latter was successful, 5 to 1.

For lieutenant-colonel, the names of Hugh Sterling, C. E. Morris, James H. Lancaster, Charles H. Geiger and W. H. Travis were suggested. Lancaster, Geiger and Sterling, however, were withdrawn. Two ballots were taken without result. Morris and Travis each receiving the votes of three companies. Then Dr. Otto withdrew Captain Travis' name, and suggested Mr. Geiger as lieutenant-colonel. In fact, Geiger was successful, 4 to 2 over Morris.

For major of the first battalion, the names of E. P. Wheat and R. E. Schaefer were suggested, and Schaefer was successful, 2 to 1.

As major of the second battalion, Charles E. Dunningberg was elected by acclamation.

Moundsville and Marshall county were recognized by the unanimous election of S. B. Blair, of Moundsville, as major of the third battalion.

As quartermaster, with the rank of captain, George W. Bowers, Jr., was chosen without opposition.

As commissary, with the rank of captain, Gabriel Jackson, the well known colored leader, was elected, without a dissenting voice.

As surgeon major, Dr. J. N. Alley, of Newwood, went through without opposition.

As surgeons, with the rank of captain, Dr. W. C. Etzler, N. B. Jones and W. E. Alexander, were chosen unanimously.

Moundsville had a committee in attendance at the meeting, and her company of Rough Riders was admitted to the regiment.

Benwood Invited.

Secretary A. C. Davis, who will be appointed regimental adjutant by Colonel Baguley, was instructed to invite the Benwood Rough Rider company to join the regiment.

At the suggestion of Dr. Otto, Chairman Archer appointed a committee of five to visit the three county districts of the county and every endeavor for the formation of cavalry troops of Rough Riders in Triadelphia, Liberty and Richland districts.

When you feel that you have tried everything and everyone, consult the only occurrence is the surprise shown by the print run taken at one office.

Do you have headache? Do your eyes water? Do they smart or burn? Does the print run taken at one office?

For any trouble of your eyes consult us. We make glasses at popular prices. Make a careful examination free of charge.

The committee is composed of Dr. G. W. Otto, W. H. Higgins, Lee Dobbs, Walter Worris and Lester Smith. Captain Honecker, of the Ritchie Rough Riders, invited the other companies to turn out for the Benwood meeting in the Eighth ward next Monday night, also to attend the company's ball on Tuesday night.

THE DESPERATE REGISTER.

It Springs a Wholly False Publication Upon its Readers.

G. W. Bradbury, superintendent of the American Steel Hoop Company, wishes to correct the statement appearing in yesterday's Register to the effect that the men were not working at wages demanded by the scale and that they would go out on a strike today. The statement, he said, was wholly without foundation as the men are receiving some $1.50 per day for their work, are satisfied and that there are good prospects ahead for a long and steady run.

AMUSEMENTS.

"At the White Horse Tavern."

While "At the White Horse Tavern," which will be seen at the Opera House, Wednesday, October 3, does not come strongly heralded, it is questionable if any comedy in the last decade has received warmer praise from critics in New York, Chicago and other large cities in which it has been played. It is no doubt, has beautiful scenery and character types, for the story is of the Tyrol in the rose-embowered inn, presided over by a charming widow, the tender passion running riot among the guests. Nor does Cupid overlook even the servants, for the head waiter is smitten and sighs for the smiles of his mistress. Laughter without a break is to greet the unravelling of the web which the blind god has wound round his victims.

Next Week at the Grand.

"It is surprising how incredulous people are regarding stage folks," says J. E. Murray, who is here in advance of the Huntley-Jackson Stock Company, which opens at the Grand next Monday. "Some how or other a certain portion of the public insist upon believing that there is a misrepresentation in all stage performances, and are loathe to believe that anything is real." Mr. Jackson, manager of the company, is a native of the United States, and is a real bolder and whistler, overheard one auditor remark recently, "In wonder what they use to heat this theatre, it looks so much like steam." He could not believe the vapor was genuine, simply because it was on the stage. Huntley-Jackson opens their week's engagement Monday evening with "For Liberty and Love."

"Miss Kidder."

Miss Flo Irwin, a sister of May, who has been about as successful as a comedienne as her sister, comes to the Opera House Monday and Tuesday. She is a week in the title role of Glen McDonough's musical farce company, "Miss Kidder." It is asserted that this is the cleverly written piece that Mr. McDonough has contributed to stage lore. The story, one of considerable strength, centers around the tribulations of a woman who is forced to live in the family name by coming a large line of blue-blooded ancestors. He is considerably disturbed in mind by the conviction that he is in love with a young girl, who is a beauty and will enough to make a desirable daughter-in-law for any family, but who, unfortunately, comes from plebeian stock, and, in fact, even a shadow of an illustrious ancestor to shed lustre on her name. The subterfuges of these two young people who originate a number of ancestors in order to please the fancy of the young man's parents form a plot of comedy, which, for down-right refreshing hilarity is said to have no equal on the stage to-day.

"Because She Loved Him So." The great success of last season, will be the attraction at the Opera House next Friday evening, October 5. This is the piece which has been styled "The Little Minister of France," that distinction being bestowed upon it both on account of its wonderful popularity and the delicate quality of its scenes. While the piece has necessarily the exaggerated fun that farce demands, an exquisite refined tone pervades them all and an abundance of delightful sentiment spices the whole thing. In fact, "Because She Loved Him So" is a pretty love story with farcical embellishments, and it is a love story that appeals to the old as well as the young.

Closes To-day.

The very successful engagement of the Macaulay-Patton Company at the Grand closes with to-day's two performances. At the matinee, "A Minister's Son" will be repeated on request, and the night bill is, "The Inside Track."

"Why?" is the Question.

If Gregg Shorthand is such a poor, worthless system of rapid writing as some would have you think why are schools adopting it all over the country? Why are court reporters changing to it? If it had been a worthless system it would not have lived during the last fourteen years. If it was worthless, authors of other systems would pay no attention to it; but they all realize that it possesses merits which their own system does not, and every attempt on their part to keep persons from learning it, only makes Gregg's Shorthand more popular. No other school in the state can teach it without purchasing their books from the ELLIOTT SCHOOL, 1318 Market street.
